

BELLEVUE HIGH MAKES REMARKABLE RECORDS IN LEAGUE BASKETBALL

When it comes to basketball, Little Bellevue High is just about it in the Little Big Seven league. In eleven years of league play, Bellevue has won four championships and was tied for the title a fifth year. Only Lorain High, with its larger student body, can boast of a record as good.

In the eleven years of the league's history, Sandusky has won but two games from Bellevue, the latter school copping off nine games. There is something in the air around Bellevue that makes for great basketball teams.

Lorain, which has won four championships and tied with Bellevue for another, and Norwalk, which two years in succession walked off with the league title, are the only schools of the league to win a basketball championship.

Following is a list of the championship schools and the seasons in which they held the title:

1912-13—Bellevue-Lorain, tie.
1913-14—Bellevue.
1914-15—Bellevue.
1915-16—Norwalk.
1916-17—Norwalk.
1917-18—Lorain.
1918-19—Lorain.
1919-20—Lorain.
1920-21—Lorain.
1921-22—Bellevue.
1922-23—Bellevue.

HIGH SCHOOL LAD SKATING MARVEL

A man turned his newspaper over to the sports page the other day and failing to find anything about Charles Jewtraw, breaking another world's record, rushed out to the box office and demanded his money back but on close inspection he found that the newsboy had slipped him a paper that was printed last August.

Jewtraw, who has been breaking records with all the regularity of a saturated chauffeur breaking traffic laws has been a sensational figure in this year's skating meets.

PUTS BASKETBALL ON MAJOR BASIS

Cleveland, the cradle of organized amateur baseball, has just set the pace in another branch of sport. Three basketball tournaments have just been held in the new municipal hall which drew a total of 35,000 lovers of the game. The hall's 12,000 and was packed on all three occasions. Max Rosenblum, backer of athletic teams, promoted the game. The Celtics, world's champion team, was the star attraction on all three occasions. One of the three tournaments was staged on a holiday afternoon.

ELYRIA ENTERS CAGE TOURNEY

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—Approximately 50 high school basketball fives are expected to participate in the northeastern Ohio high school tournament which will be held in Western Reserve University gymnasium here March 2 and 3. More than 200 players already have been registered. The majority of the teams registered so far are outside of Cleveland, only seven local quintets having formally entered so far. Many other Cleveland fives are scheduled to get into the competition, however.

Among outside teams which have entered are Ashabula Harbor, Elyria, Parma, Olmstead Falls, Chardon, Lorain, Geneva and Bedford.

Sport Gossip

Of the 32 players on the Phillies' roster, 14 are pitchers, eight right-handers and six southpaws. A fund is being raised at Brown to revive the sport of rowing at the Providence university.

Tommy Murphy, ex-national amateur lightweight champion, is now a boxing promoter in Kansas City. Jimmy Kelly, well known manager of boxers, who has plotted some high-class scrappers, has quit the game.

Ed Bellamy, a likely looking middleweight from Ireland, has arrived on this side with a desire to show his ring prowess.

Glen Coker, son of Lou Coker, the old American league catcher, will probably be given a trial in the outfield by the Red Sox.

Babe Ruth is confident that he will regain his 1921 batting form this season and also that he will play the game of his life in the outfield.

A $500 loving cup will be presented to the basketball team which defeats the Original Celtics on their home surface, Madison Square Garden.

The St. Paul-Cleveland-Pittsburg three-cornered battle for the Western division hockey championship has been the biggest card of the hockey season.

Joe Ray, the track king, and Johnny Weismuller, the swimming marvel, have done much to keep Chicago in the athletic spotlight of late.

From present indications Scullin Steel is going to find considerable trouble in defeating the Vesper. Butkus in the St. Louis pro soccer league.

Woodland Avenue Residents Give "Just Folks" Play

OBERLIN, Feb. 27.—Just Folks' a farce in two acts was presented by the Woodland avenue Stock Company, at their annual party, Monday evening, February 26th, 1923, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wright, 124 Woodland avenue.

This party is composed entirely of Woodland avenue people and out of 68 grown ups on the average, 58 were present, illness keeping the absent ones away.

The cast was made up of the following:

Mrs. Terney—Mrs. H. S. Curtis. Aunt Teenie Compton—Mrs. W. H. Chapin.

Carl—Mrs. Harris—Miss Josephine Smith.

Mr. Snyder (mailman)—Ernest Vocum.

Marj—Cuddelback—Mrs. M. M. Kendegh.

Mrs. Percy Young—Mrs. Ernest Vocum.

Henry Meeker—Clarence Wright. Lucy Meeker—Mrs. E. L. Keiser.

The first scene of this play was laid in Mrs. Tierney's front yard, where that good woman was hanging up her clothes. The neighbor women come along one by one, gave her a bit of news concerning Mrs. Lucy Meeker's absence from town. Even Mr. Snyder was interviewed.

(Mrs. Meeker, altho the neighbors didn't know it, was in town having an impression taken for teeth.)

The second scene of the play was the Meekers' sitting room. Mr. Meeker, who is almost bald, in his chair is suddenly confronted with the different neighbor women, each carrying a dish of food and accidentally trying to find out where Lucy has gone. Mrs. Meeker, happening home, declares her neighbors bring food to her husband to help him eat, taking the dishes with them, which happens, in each case to be a pen of beans. The Meekers are left without any food.

Mrs. Clarence Wright, who wishes to remain unknown, was the organist and writer of this play and to her due much credit. Mr. Wright was prominently a large bouquet of daffodils from the cast in appreciation of her efforts.

The ushers were Marion Wright and V. A. Kendegh.

The Company is indebted to the Kenleigh Co. for the asbestos curtains used, the Vocum Bros. for the gold curtains, and the Wrights for the food and coffee served.

THEY DESERVE THE GRATITUDE OF ALL

We desire to call the attention of the readers of The Chronicle-Telegram to the fact that the newspapers, representing a fraternity which Edmund Burke called the Fourth Estate, as a rule take a position on public questions which is in the interest of justice and of truth, even though that position may be opposed by a large element of their advertising patronage. This means much in a Democracy which is so dependent, for its very life, upon complete and accurate information concerning points at issue.

Without proper information, correct opinions and decisions are impossible. We are absolutely dependent upon the newspapers for the one, and to some extent we are directed by their interpretation of the news in the other.

Particularly we would call attention to the attitude of the newspapers in regard to the Living Wage Commission Bill, which has been urged by the great bodies of organized women in the state. The Cleveland Plain Dealer we quoted recently. It has been unequivocal in its stand, and it is a paper of great influence. Again, the Sipples McRae League of Newspapers are a most tremendous force in developing and marshaling public opinion, and their able corps of correspondents and legislative reporters have devoted themselves to this cause as to no other that has been before the state.

Locally this group of papers is represented by the Cleveland Press. We say this ungrudgingly even though the Press is, in a measure, a competitor to us in our local field. These journals deserve the gratitude not only of the thousands of wage-earning women of Ohio whose cause they have championed, but of every right-thinking person who is interested in the cause of good government and a real solution of our problems.

An illustration of their advocacy of the cause is found in an editorial which we are reprinting today, and which appeared in all their papers throughout Ohio. It was under the caption, "Women to Fight On for Justice," and is as follows:

"We feel safe in promising the people of Ohio that they are soon to have an illustration of just how great an influence for good is the will of women in politics. The vehicle which will carry this new force in our public life thruout the state for all the people to view is the campaign for a minimum wage for women.

"The Ohio Legislature has rejected the Burke bill to provide a minimum wage for women in industry. 'They have killed it,' say the legislative reporters. 'It's dead,' agree the men. And most of them are content to turn away and leave it lie where it fell.

"But it's different with the women. 'It is only sleeping,' they say. 'We'll pick it up, dress its wounds, nurse it back to health and return it to the Legislature stronger than ever.'

"And we believe they will. Men are said to be practical. Women are known to be idealistic. And idealism, that quality which seeks ever after the highest, the noblest, the best, is the hope of the nation.

"A 'practical' man may qualify, may compromise, may retreat from justice to gain a present end. An 'idealist' may lose the victory of the present because he is not willing to stultify himself, to barter with evil, to sacrifice a principle.

"But, once attained, an ideal is worth all it costs. The people as a whole reap the benefits secured for them by the few who have the hardihood to pay the price of shattered hopes.

"The contest for passage of the Burke minimum wage bill was women's first big fight in the Legislature. They have lost the battle but they are still confident they will win the war.

"They realize, as does every intelligent person, that the substitution of the Burch bill (note the similarity in names of authors) to appoint a commission to investigate the operation of such measures in other states before making it a statute in Ohio, was a subterfuge, designed deliberately to kill the entire proposal.

"They know also that those who urged the Legislature to 'investigate before it invests' really intend that the 'investigation' shall lead nowhere except to the graveyard of the minimum wage bill.

"Knowing these truths, it will be interesting to watch future developments to see whether the women backers of the bill will quit the fight after their first knockdown. We are sure they will not. We are certain they will make an effort, stronger than ever, to secure justice and a living wage for their sisters in industry.

"We are convinced also, now they have entered the arena of politics, that women will listen more attentively to campaign promises of men and will insist just as earnestly that the latter either redeem their pledges or go down to defeat when they return to the people for re-election.

"To apply this to the present situation, we believe the time has come when the women of Ohio will insist that men who pledge themselves to support a minimum wage bill while running for the Legislature must either deliver the goods or stay at home."

KOMICAL TELEGRAMS

By JIM ARMITAGE, Himself

Weather like this makes a fellow wonder where he put that straw hat.

Just about the time you forget about the coal man, you're reminded by the one man that "every day has his day."

See where Michigan Democrats failed to induce Ford for president. No use talking the Democrats are sure learning.

Read these say, "Don't say the water was here." I didn't bother to tell about it, but I heard it roared a lot.

They talk about things being done. Why don't some enterprising business men take the Willie plant and start making Ku Klux nightgowns?

See where someone stole the "likker records" down in Cleveland. That's nothing, ever in Lorain they stole the likker.

Benny Ryan is quite a radio fan. He invited Jack McConnell over to listen in. After they heard a dozen stations both of them fell asleep.

and "Cy" Keyes said they didn't wake up till the alarm went off at five-thirty the next morning.

Ralph Barber was in Toledo attending the Ohio State bowling tournament. At about twelve-thirty the second night the fire bell rang and the department headed down the street. Ralph took after them for how did he know but what the bowling alleys were burning up.

Charlie Heimbach rolled 644. This would put him in first place and get him a lot of money—only some twenty fellows were mean enough to roll more.

Mayor Jones is in Sandusky today telling the Sandusky Kiwanis club "how prosperous Elyria is." It takes a good man to do that.

Gerald Martin wanted me to attend the council meeting last night—but I've got a cracked lip.

Chief Stankard says, "He won't close any of the stores." That don't worry 'em, what some of 'em are afraid of is that if business don't pick up—the sheriff might.

See where the third son of the King of England had the little toe removed from both feet because it interfered with his dancing. Trouble wasn't in his feet—he better have his head examined.

Charlie Tucker was confined to his bed with a slight attack of the "flu" but it didn't bother him much, as gasoline went up in price twice—so he just laid there and smiled.

"Voice of the people" article by Sol Sax certainly has 'em guessing. There may be something to what he says.

IN THE FIRELIGHT
The fire upon the hearth is low.
And there is stillness every-where.
And like winged spirits, here and there,
The firelight shadows fluttering go.
And as the shadows round me creep,
A childish treble breaks the gloom.
And softly from a farther room
Comes "Now I lay me down to sleep."

And, somehow, with that little prayer
And that sweet treble in my ears,
My thoughts go back to distant years
And linkers with a dear one there;
And as I hear my child's amen,
My mother's faith comes back to me.
Crouched at her side I seem to see,
And mother holds my hands again.

Oh, for an hour in that dear hour,
Oh, for the peace of that dear time—
Oh, for that childish trust sublime—
Oh, for a glimpse of mother's face,
Yet, as the shadows round me creep,
I do not seem to be alone—
Sweet memory of that treble tone
And "Now I lay me down to sleep."

—Eugene Field.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The grand jury which will begin investigation of the anti saloon league of New York state will be asked to return an indictment charging grand larceny against William H. Anderson, superintendent of the dry organization.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Secretary of labor Davis today declined an offer to "star" in a movie production of his book "The Iron Puddler."

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"U. S. AND BRITISH MEN OF LETTERS CAN PROMOTE PEACE."

That scholars and men of letters in the several countries can play an important part in promoting international peace is the opinion of Sir Frederic Kenyon, director of the British Museum and former president of the British Academy. He is now in the United States.

"One of the services that men of culture—men, that is, who have been trained to study human nature to take large views, to profit from the teachings of philosophy and history, can render to their generation is to try to heal the wounds that war has caused," said Sir Frederic recently. "This involves no abandonment of the ideals with which we entered on and carried through the war. I am not in the least one of those who, when a great struggle is over, are at once prepared to plunge themselves on taking a detached and impartial view, to say that no doubt every one was equally to blame, and that the best thing is to forget all about it and act as though nothing had happened. But breaches however deep and however righteously made, must be filled up if civilization is not to be wrecked and it is for the men of the widest education to try to seek out the better spirits on the other side of the chasm and gradually to renew relations of intellectual intercourse."

It is a slow process, and the good cosmopolitanism, it is no secret, I remember the lofty idealism and of a superior mind, to constitute former enemies at the expense of alienating former friends. The end to be aimed at is to create an atmosphere from which bitterness will be absent, and in which, by the practice of tact and forbearance on all sides, tolerance and cooperation will be possible, which in due time may be strengthened into cordiality.

"It is in the creation of this atmosphere that I think American and English scholars can very usefully assist, and each can do more in his own field than the other. There is something perhaps in the temperament of the race which does not bear malice long after the fighting is over. There is something in the fact that, though both were principals in the war, though both endured injuries not lightly to be forgiven or forgotten, they were exempt from some of the worst outrages inflicted on our allies."

WASHINGTON WOULD AMPLIFY ROPE? BELIEVES PASTOR OF HIS CHURCH

If George Washington were alive today he would doubtless disapprove of some national acts and deplore his warning against entangling alliances probably would disapprove of the war, though both endured injuries not lightly to be forgiven or forgotten, they were exempt from some of the worst outrages inflicted on our allies.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

THOMAS E. CAMPBELL

Thomas E. Campbell, former governor of Arizona, is now listed among the probable successors to Secretary of the Interior Fall, who resigned some time ago. Campbell is forty-five years old, having been born in Prescott, Arizona, in 1878. He was educated in the public schools and attended St. Mary's college at O'Fallon, Ill., for one year.

He started on his political career at a very early age, holding the office of assistant postmaster of Prescott from 1894-98. He became acting postmaster for the following two years. In 1900, the year he was married, he became a member of the territorial legislature of Arizona, but in 1902 he was again named postmaster of Jerome and served in that capacity until 1905.

His next step in politics was as county assessor of Yavapai county, Arizona. He served there from 1907-11 and 1912-15.

Campbell then started his national career running for congress in the Republican ticket in 1914. He was made state tax commissioner the next year and in 1916 was elected governor of the state, but held the office only a few brief weeks, as a recent showed him defeated by some forty-three votes.

He was elected governor, however, for the term 1919-21 and re-elected for the term 1921-23.

The ex-governor has one publication to his credit, "Centralized Authority in Taxation."

ASK MORE DATA ON PROPOSED WORLD'S COURT

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wants Questions Clarified

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Because of opposition of "irreconcilable" members, the senate foreign relations committee today postponed indefinitely action on the proposal of President Harding for the American representation on the permanent court of international justice until the question is further clarified by additional information from the president and secretary of state.

Problem Confusing

The committee specifically requested information on three problems of the proposal: 1—Whether the court will be a judicial body, or merely a tribunal of arbitration. 2—If the United States should decide to enter the court, what bounds would be attached to this country by the labor clauses of the court's statute referred to it by the Versailles treaty. 3—Whether other nations participated in the activities of the court under specific reservations and what these reservations were.

Five Other Problems

With only one dissenting vote, by Senator Keogh, republican of Minnesota, the committee also adopted a resolution by Senator Borah, republican of Idaho, asking the president to advise the committee whether he favors an agreement obligating all powers of government who are signers of the protocol creating the court, to submit all questions about which there is a dispute and which cannot be settled by diplomatic efforts, relative: 1—The interpretation of treaties. 2—Any question of international law. 3—The existence of any fact, which, if established, would constitute a breach of an international obligation. 4—The nature or extent of reparation to be made for the breach of an international obligation. 5—The interpretation of a sentence passed by the court.

MAUDE COUGHLIN, 15, INJURED BY MACHINE

Miss Maude Coughlin, 15, of 320 Summer street, was knocked down in Clark street yesterday afternoon by an unknown automobile driver, who proceeded on his way without stopping to see how his victim was injured. It is said that the young lady had just got out of another car and started across the street when she was struck. She sustained a number of painful cuts about the limbs and arms, but was able to proceed to her home.

the relations of men to each other precede even law." Commissioner Haynes said, "As a people, we have nothing to fear from without. No great foreign foe is preparing to jump at us with sudden ruthlessness. The enemy that is to be feared is a subtle one. One that, under a guise of non-observance of the law, threatens to undermine the very fundamentals which have been responsible for the growth, prosperity and happiness of our country. We cannot permit the open violation of any specific law without at the same time fostering the spirit of anarchy that will eventually hold all law in contempt and disrepute. That it is difficult at this hour to enforce prohibitory laws we do not deny, and that there are violations of the law we do not doubt. To nullify the prohibition laws or to repeal them will cure no evils that arise from the liquor traffic, but you will set a precedent and make it more easy to nullify any law."

Under the eighteenth amendment, the states and federal government have concurrent power in its enforcement. All but two of the states have adopted appropriate legislation and assume their part of this responsibility. Mayors of cities, county prosecutors, chiefs of police, governors of state and other local officials are co-operating with the federal authorities more and more.

Asks Co-Operation

"This co-operation is my appeal to Ohio. I am confident that, very soon these various forces will become better co-ordinated, and that very rapidly the larger cities will begin to assume their part of the burden as well as your country communities. That is as it should be. I say we are making progress. Listen to a few figures from Ohio in 1922 for the year ending June 30, 1918 arrests for drunkenness were 33,800. For the year ending June 30, 1922, there were 17,655 such arrests. For the same two years, there were 10,000 less men sent to the workhouse. There was a decrease of 20 per cent in the number of orphan children sent to state homes. The total fines, penalties and taxes in Ohio during the fiscal year 1922, exclusive of narcotics, was $1,535,674.

Harding For Enforcement

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27.—The "utter importance of full law enforcement" is referred to by President Harding in a letter made public here this afternoon by federal prohibition Commissioner Haynes. "I think it is a fine thing that you have these opportunities of stressing the utter importance of full law enforcement in order to sustain the dignity of government and maintain that necessary respect for law and order which is the security of the republic," President Harding wrote to Commissioner Haynes when the latter, by letter, informed the president of his contemplated trip to Ohio and his engagement to address a joint session of the state legislature here on "law enforcement."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Decided to break the British monopoly, which will cost the American year, two hundred leading automo-

Washington today to lay the underwork of a campaign to shift credit rubber production of the world from control of British to American interests.

onel Charles R. Forbes, returning administration of soldier regiment, which led to senate action, authorizing an investigation of the colonel's bureau.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Deciding the indictment against him
"vague, indefinite and ambiguous," and that it would not protect from subsequent prosecution, major assistant secretary of war

District of Columbia supreme court a demurrer to charges that he sought to defraud the government in connection with war campaign contracts.

REVENGE IS SWEET FOR PRISONER IN "RITUAL MURDER"

Mendel Beilis, above, and the dismissed rabbi, Yudel Effenbein.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Mendel
Beilis has laughed at last.
That is an incident worthy its own paragraph.
For Mendel Beilis' lips have been graven in downward curves that frown away any suggestion of mirth.

It wasn't a pleasant laugh. A grating tone. Not one felt he was justified in tingling with rancor the first laugh he has permitted himself since July 22, 1911, when he was accused in Kiev, Russia, of slaying a Christian lad to use his blood in a Jewish religious ritual.

For Beilis read of the spectacular unfrocking of the pseudo rabbi, Yudel Effenbein. And he remembered that it was testimony of Yudel Effenbein that had much to do with his troubles in Kiev.

Effenbein was summarily dismissed from his charge in a Bronx synagogue after the Society of Rabbin had received evidence that he had been converted to Christianity almost two decades ago in Galicia and for a number of years thereafter had written numerous articles denouncing Judaism and practices that the anti-Semitic group laid to Jews.

Beilis said:
"I was arrested July 22, 1911, when I was a factory foreman on the charge of murdering Andre Uchinsky, thirteen. The boy had been found with 103 stab wounds.
"Eventually, his murderers, three members of a bandit gang, confessed."

"I was arrested as the murderer.
Of course, I was acquitted. But I spent two and a half years in jail awaiting trial. The prosecution got hold of documents written by Yudel Effenbein. He has been a Jew who turned Christian and took to denouncing Jews."

"The documents written by him were read against me at the trial.
They charged that Jews require the blood of a Christian in the making of Matzoths."

"I never saw the man. But when I read of his unfrocking I remembered the part his documents, as testimony read into the records, played against me."

Beilis is now owner of a printing establishment bought with funds raised by sympathizers. He is of medium build, heavily stooped and deeply lined.
Effenbein has disappeared.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 27.—Assert-

"MEASLES FOR SALE" ON HOUSES AROUND POLICE IN PENNSYLVANIA TOWN

STEELETON, Pa., Feb. 27.—
"Measles for Sale" and "Measles for Rent" are two signs which recently have been displayed on many houses here. The queer combination became so common inquiries were made to the local police concerning the meaning of the signs and why they were posted. A policeman was sent to investigate.
After looking over more than a score of such signs the officer decided that the borough health officer either had a well developed sense of humor or an entire lack of it. An epidemic of measles has been prevalent here for some time. An umber of houses are posted "For Sale" or "For Rent."
A health officer posted a "measles" sign, either accidentally or by design, he placed it exactly above the "For Rent" or "For Sale" sign. Thus happened the queer combination.

that looks right and tastes fine on hot toast and hot breads

The flavor of Jelke GOOD LUCK, when spread on hot toast, is that of a very excellent and very delicious spread. Neither the taste nor the appearance is changed by the heat, except as it melts and combines with the toast in the usual and appetizing way.

On griddle cakes GOOD LUCK is equally satisfactory. While for plain bread GOOD LUCK is the finest spread possible. It tastes like you want it to; looks the way it should; and has plenty of food value.

In short, GOOD LUCK has every best feature of an ideal spread for bread. To

Musical Art Society Members Enjoyed Re-Arranged Program

The Musical Art society presented a number of soloists, also a string trio, under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Wilford, at the First Congregational church yesterday afternoon.

A small but friendly and enthusiastic audience listened to the following program, which was re-arranged, because of illness of members:

Sonata (First Movement). Mozart
William Conrad, violin
Walter Hinkle, piano
Etude C minor... Chopin
Miss Sybil Adams

Songs—
Sunset... Dudley Buck
Under the Rose, W. Arnes Fisher
Mrs. H. H. Gregg

Trio—
Serenade... Widor
Minuet... Pachelbel
Miss Lucile Hinman, piano
Alvin Bemis, violin
Leonard Wagner, cello

Piano—
Valse Triste... MacDowell
Novellette... MacDowell
Miss Mary Seward

Plano—
Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue... Bach
Scherzo... Mendelssohn
Miss Adams
Piano—Hungarian Rhapsody No. 8... Liszt
Mrs. E. E. Critz

Songs—
Hoffnung... Reichardt
Where the Stars Arise... Lucas
Miss Marjorie Dee
Piano—Rhapsody... Dohnanyi
Mrs. Critz

Special mention should be made of the excellent work done by the two out-of-town soloists, Mrs. E. E. Critz, of Akron, and Miss Sybil Adams, of Lorain.

Mrs. Critz presented her numbers with authority, with an almost flawless technique and good tonal coloring.

Miss Sybil Adams' playing was marked by excellent musicianship and intelligence. She has a rich tone that is never forced, fleet, sure fingers and a good sense of dynamics, all of which served to make most interesting the difficult numbers which she presented.

You will be amazed to see how the use of "Bull" Durham will out down the cost of your smoking.

How is it possible to give you quality at the low cost of 10 cents for 50 cigarettes?

Here's one reason: The government tax alone on 50 machine-made cigarettes is 15 cents—5 CENTS MORE THAN THE COST OF 50 "BULL" DURHAM CIGARETTES TO YOU!

The average smoker saves $1 to $1.50 a week by "rolling his own" from "Bull"—or from $52 to $78 a year. This makes quite a Christmas fund—or pays for a fine trip.

There really is no smoke in the world so altogether satisfactory.

A "Bull" smoker never switches. You can't interest him in any new experiments. He carries his preference wherever he goes.

This is because the special flavor and aroma of "Bull" Durham make a cigarette that can not be duplicated.

BROADWAY BELLES

AT RIALTO SATURDAY

Billy Hagan, the chief comedian appearing with "Broadway Belles" playing at the Rialto theatre Saturday night, March 3rd, is a product of San Francisco and although his school boy ambition was to be an electrician he bounced into vaudeville when he left school. He was in vaudeville for a few years, played in burlesque for two years and then was in stock burlesque for eight seasons. He is a crack baseball player and that game is his favorite recreation. Ann Toebe, the soubrette is a newcomer in burlesque this being only her second season. She is a good dancer and her favorite recreation is swimming.

Low Lederer, another comedian, is a stock musical actor who is new in burlesque this year, and Art Mayfield is also a newcomer.

Star Makes Real "Pugs" Go Limit

When Universal announced its decision to film another series of H. C. Witwer's popular stories of "The Leather Pushers" the casting director was besieged with applications from some of the best known pugilists in the ring to-day. But the professional "pugs" admitted that they earned their money, because Denny is a rugged athlete and highly trained boxer. When he starts in to fight in front of the camera his opponent knows that he is in a scrap.

However, the reason that Denny injects in his pictures is responsible for a large share of their success. The new series which start tomorrow at Dreamland theatre can truthfully be acclaimed most enjoyable short-length features on screen to-day. H. C. Witwer, author, wired Denny his congratulations after being shown the set and announced he was one author that was perfectly satisfied with the way his stories were being interpreted.

Rheumatism Relief—25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Everything Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Failure in any one of these processes means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failing to get rid of certain body poisons—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body.

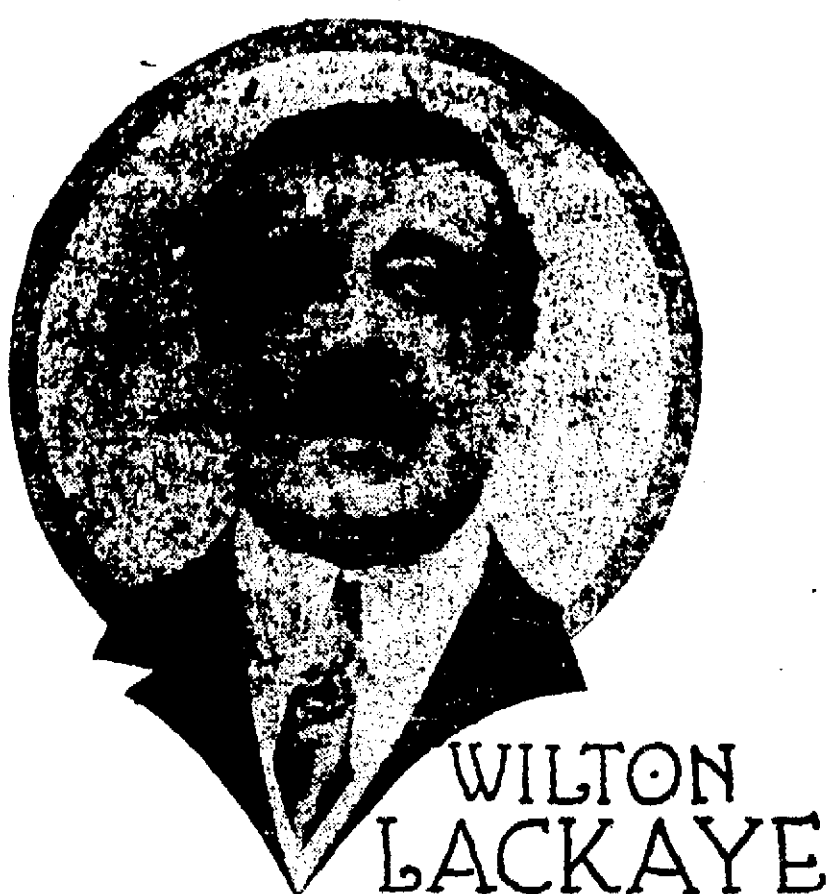

Think of this: It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief from their rheumatic pains as much as much for uncertain things.

25c. box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-three days—must help you. Don't give up without relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you needless expense. You've tried the expensive pain killers and doctors, now make the real test. Try the Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) for 25c. and you'll find out.

THE CIRCLE COMES TO RIALTO MONDAY

Mr. Wilton Lackaye With 'The Circle'

WILTON LACKAYE

The Selwyns will present at the Rialto theatre Monday night, March 5, the New York, London and Paris success, "The Circle," with an all star cast including Wilton Lackaye, Henry E. Dixey, Amelia Bingham, Charlotte Walker, Norman Hackett and an excellent supporting company. The play is a gem. It tells an absorbing story in a most delightful way and by this exceptional cast it is acted in a manner that approaches perfection. The scene is laid in England. To the home of Arnold Champ-on-Cheney, a member of parliament, comes his wife in years complicates matters, and Arnold is worried. Among the house guests is Teddy Luton. He and Arnold's wife are in love and are planning to elope. Then, Lady Kitty and Porteous arrive. The thirty years have not treated them kindly. He is ill-tempered and drinks. His career was ruined by the elopement and he has soured. Lady Kitty is a painted, insouciant, frivolous old woman. She tries to hide her age, and she gushes. The young couple do not approve.

Then Elizabeth, the young wife, tells her husband she intends to leave him. He pleads, but without avail. So Lady Kitty takes a hand and warns the young woman out of her own experience. Porteous also puts in a word or two. Arnold's father thinks up a brilliant scheme to prevent his son's wife from leaving. And then, at the last minute, Teddy and Elizabeth borrow Porteous' motor—with his consent—and start for the Antipodes, perfectly happy and accompanied by the good wishes of Lady Kitty and Porteous.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

Margaret Livingston has broken all hard-work records in Los Angeles during the past eighteen months by appearing in the principal roles of fourteen important new photoplays. When Miss Livingston first went to Los Angeles from Salt Lake City where she had been attending school and living quietly with her family she had several short stories and a novella to her credit. Her first job in pictures was that of "Title Page."

It was wasteful, however, to let such beauty and talent be hidden in the laboratory away from public gaze. When a girl of a certain type was needed for "Within the Cup," Miss Livingston donned her laboratory apron and stepped into the part. And she says she's never seen her little blue laboratory apron since. She is probably the only actress in pictures to reach the top via the "lab." What's Your Husband Doing? "House of a Thousand Candles" and "Lying Lips" were a few of her earlier pictures.

She has just been engaged for the all-star cast of "Divorce," a Chester Bennett production now in the making. She will appear with John Bowers in the picture.

Four Stars Signed by Goldwyn Goldwyn folk are certainly celebrating "em all." Recent list of contracts signed by them include a five-year one with Conrad Nagel, who has been so closely identified in his screen career with Paramount that everybody believed he was with them for life; and Lucile Littlefield, the character man who also grew up with Famous Players-Lasky; Cecil Holland, another protean actor of note, and Hobart Bosworth, long a star in his own right, who has also affixed in name to a five-year agreement under the Lion brand.

Under the terms of Bosworth's contract, he is to be permitted to make one independent starring production a year, on condition that Goldwyn has first option on its release. "The Blood Ship," Norman Springer's novel, is to be the first under this special clause.

Mildred Harris Returns. Mildred Harris—the first Mrs. Chaplin, y'know—has been signed for the stellar role in Max Graf's production of "The Fool," which Metro is to release. Paul Powell is to direct it at the San Mateo studios in San Francisco. Miss Harris left for New York on Saturday for a brief business trip. She returns for "The Fool" in three weeks. Cullen Landis, Myrtle Stedman, Billie Dove, Ralph Lewis, Louise Fazenda, Frank Currier and David Butler have also been engaged by Mr. Graf.

GRAND. The delightful comedy "Gimme!" picturing the joys of married life, scintillating with humor, and at the same time has a touch of pathos. The young wife finds herself in the position of having to ask for every cent she needs to run the house and live on, and some funny complications take place.

AMERICAN. William Fox presents "Nero" staged in Italy, with just the surroundings needed for such a picture, and plenty of native talent on hand for the mob scenes. There are exciting incidents such as the burning of the city, the mob scene, the throwing of the Christians to the lions, and the rescue by the slave. The return of Horatio in triumph from Spain, and the ending of Nero's life by suicide, together with the wedding of Horatio and Marcia gives a fitting climax to the picture.

DREAMLAND. The Speed King is one of the pictures that is full of the poppiest kind of pop. There are enough hair-breadth escapes to be seen, and enough humor to give color to the picture. There is always a good comedy to be seen.

"Buy or Sell," makes no difference—use "Classified Page."

“FLUMONIA”

This disease is prominent in many of the eastern and central states. It is a bad disease induced by colds and improper ventilation. The newspapers are filled with suggestions as to the warding off of this illness. Eminent doctors from all over the continent are urging proper ventilation in public buildings, theatres, stores and any place of such nature that crowds will assemble. The management of the Grand theatre has heeded all of these urgings and suggestions and as a result anyone can visit the Finest Theatre in Elyria or county and find the theatre sweet and cool, no bad air, the proper temperature at all times regardless of the outside weather.

It is noted by the public that all of these statements are true, otherwise the Grand would not show to capacity houses at most performances. It is given fact, the pictures of the Grand theatre are of the best to be obtained. The moral and other features of these pictures are the best produced.

Elyria has the finest photoplay house, Elyria has the best ventilated theatre, Elyria enjoys the best of pictures, Elyria enjoys these pictures, this theatre, this ventilation system. The management of the Grand Theatre believes that above all financial motives, there is a human derivative that is to be determined from the service to humanity.

NEW SPRING SUITS ARE EVERYTHING BUT USUAL

Spring comes again as a suit season and the suits offered are anything but usual. There are so many new ideas incorporated in the spring suits that each garment seems like something never seen before. Here are but three models picked at random and no two are alike. Blue tricotine tucked in an odd fashion is the feature of the suit at the left. Colored embroidery on the jacket of the suit in the center to match the silk blouse is a pretty feature of the second choice while an odd cape coat of satin, printed in Chinese design distinguishes the suit at the right.

SLAIN CLUBMAN SOCIETY RUM RUNNER, WIDOW INFORMS LOS ANGELES POLICE

Two roses of Mrs. Peggy Remington, widowed by Los Angeles' latest slaying.

Earle Remington, slain clubman and aviator of Los Angeles, was a society bootlegger on the side, police say. A widow has informed them. No trace of Remington's slayer has been found and police now are considering the advisability of calling in some of Remington's 200 society customers for questioning.

CAPE IS SPRING'S FAVORITE CLOAK

The cape is again a favorite wrap with fashionable women because it is so very graceful. It is particularly spring's wrap because of its airy folds which add just enough warmth for cool spring evenings and late afternoons. This stunning model is a soft wrap in the color made of extra pure silk. It is colored in self-material.
